This document provides you with key investor information about this Sub-Fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this Sub-Fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

ALETTI GESTIELLE SGR

Cedola Plus

A Sub-Fund of Gestielle Investment Sicav Class R LU0959837237 Fund managed by: Aletti Gestielle SGR

Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective To increase the value of your investment over the long term, specifically, the five years beginning at the end of the initial subscription period.

Portfolio Securities The Sub-Fund invests in bonds that are issued by corporations or sovereign nations. Up to 45% of assets may be invested in lower quality bonds (as low as B-), and up to 45% of assets may be invested in bonds from emerging markets.

The Sub-Fund may swap the performance of some of its bond investments for the positive performance (if any) of the FTSE MIB Index. This means that some of the Sub-Fund's performance could be influenced by the performance of shares.

The Sub-Fund may use derivatives to seek investment gains and / or to reduce its exposure to currency and investment risks (hedging).

After the fifth year, the Sub-Fund will invest directly into short-term corporate and sovereign bonds.

Investment Process Portfolio Managers follow the creditworthiness of each issuer whose securities are bought for one fund. A top-down approach is used with investment grade companies, while with those within the high yield rating category a bottom-up approach prevails.

Designed For Investors who seek for gradual capital growth according to the time horizon of the sub funds and accept the possibility of capital loss in the medium term. This Fund may not be appropriate for investor who plan to withdraw their money within 5 years.

Sub-Fund shares are sold only during the subscription period and will be redeemed on request.

The Sub-Fund's shares will be income shares (shares in which any income earned is distributed to investors) for the first five years, then will convert to accumulation shares (shares in which any income earned is added to the share price).

Terms to Understand

Bonds Securities that represent an obligation to repay a debt, with interest. Lower quality bonds are those below the top four categories of credit quality, and are considered more likely to default on their obligations to investors.

Derivatives Financial instruments whose value is linked to one or more rates, indexes, share prices or other values.

FTSE MIB Index A measure of the performance of shares of largest companies in Italy.

Emerging markets Nations whose economies and/or securities markets are less well established.

Shares Securities that represent a share in the business results of a company.

Risk and Reward Profile

The value of an investment in the Sub-Fund can go up and down. When you sell your shares, they may be worth less than what you paid for them. If your currency as an investor is different from the subscription currency of the Sub-Fund, changes in currency exchange rates could reduce any investment gains or increase any investment losses.

The risk/reward rating above is based on medium-term volatility (actual or estimated variations in the Sub-Fund's share price over five years). Going forward, the Sub-Fund's actual volatility could be lower or higher, and its rated risk/reward level may be changed. Historical data used for calculate the Synthetic Risk indicator may not be a reliable indication for the future.

The Sub-Fund's risk level reflects the following factors:

- As a class, bonds carry lower risks than shares.
- Emerging markets carry higher risks than developed markets.

The rating does not reflect the possible effects of unusual market conditions or large unpredictable events, which could amplify everyday risks and could trigger other risks, such as:

Liquidity risk Certain securities could become hard to value, or to sell at a desired time and price.

Management risk Portfolio management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental during unusual conditions.

Credit risk The fund is exposed to the risk of default of an issuer in terms of honoring the payment of coupons and/or the repayment of the amount borrowed. This risk is higher as the fund may invest in high -yield debt issues whose issuers are considered risky.

Emerging countries risk Emerging countries may experience political, legal or fiscal uncertainties or other events that could impact negatively on the assets of the fund. The assets traded in these countries may be subject to market movements that are potentially more rapid than in the major international markets and listing differentials that may be considerably bigger under certain market conditions. These assets may prove to be less liquid and may not be able to be sold quickly and at reasonable prices. Exchange rate fluctuations involving the currencies of emerging countries may be sudden and substantial.

Counterparty risk The Sub-Fund could lose money if an entity with which it does business becomes unwilling or unable to honor its commitments to the Sub-Fund.

Derivatives risk Certain derivatives could increase Sub-Fund volatility or expose the Sub-Fund to losses greater than the cost of the derivative.
