

COOKIES POLICY

DISCLAIMER

The Cookies Policy may be subject to changes from time to time, in accordance with the relevant legal provisions, under Luxembourg's law and jurisdiction.

WHAT ARE COOKIES? WHAT ARE THEY USED FOR?

Cookies are text files containing small amounts of information which are downloaded to your device when you visit a website. Cookies are then sent back to the originating web domain on your subsequent visits to that domain. Most web pages contain elements from multiple web domains so when you visit www.banquehavilland.com your browser may receive cookies from several sources.

Cookies are useful because they allow a website to recognise a user's device. Cookies allow you to navigate between pages efficiently, remember preferences and generally improve the user experience. They can also be used to tailor advertising to your interests through tracking your browsing across websites.

Moreover, some cookies are managed by Google automatically. This means that the information is sent to Google Analytics Dashboard, from the user's usual website metrics. These will be stored anonymously and kept in the analytics account and can be further processed by Banque Havilland in order to improve the website.

For the user's convenience, in order to obtain some complementary information, please click on the following link: <https://developers.google.com/analytics/devguides/collection/analyticsjs/cookie-usage>

WHICH TYPE OF COOKIES DO WE USE?

In order to optimize the user's experience on Banque Havilland's website, we use persistent and session cookies. The session cookie contains information which is temporarily stored and then deleted when the session is completed or as the web browser is closed. The persistent cookie, to the contrary of the session cookies are not deleted once the session is closed. They allow the website to "remember" the user's preferences with regard to the language choice or the most favourite opened tabs.

Among these cookies please find their description below.

Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are essential in order to enable you to move around the website and use its features. Without these cookies, services you have asked for (such as navigating between pages) cannot be provided.

Performance cookies

We make use of analytic cookies to analyse how our visitors use our websites and to monitor website performance. This allows us to provide a high quality experience by customising our offering and quickly identifying and fixing any issues that arise. For example, we might use performance cookies to keep track of which pages are most popular, which method of linking between pages is most effective, and to determine why some pages are receiving error messages. We might also use these cookies to highlight articles or site services that we think will be of interest to you based on your usage of the website. The information collected by these cookies is not associated with your personal information by us or by our contractors.

Cookies policy does not cover third party websites

Please note that this Cookies policy does not apply to, and we are not responsible for, the privacy practices of third party websites which may be linked to or accessible through this website.

How can the user manage the cookies?

The cookies are an efficient way to optimise the user's experience on the website. Nevertheless, they are not mandatory.

By using our website www.banquehavilland.com you consent to the use of cookies in accordance with this Cookies policy. You will have seen a pop up to this effect on your first visit to this website; although it will not usually appear on subsequent visits, you may nevertheless withdraw your consent at any time.

If you do not agree to the use of these cookies please disable them by following the instructions for your browser set out here or use the automated disabling tool where available (Please note that Banque Havilland S.A. do not bear any responsibility regarding the website and its content, which have been provided to you for demonstration purposes only).

Thus please note that in case of refusal of the cookies, some website's features may be shown poorly and some function may not be accessible.
